

George's Marvellous Medicine

by Roald Dahl

Colour the box with the correct answer under each question.

1. Where did George's father keep the animal medicines?

garage

shed

bathroom

2. What building was beside the shed?

stable

pig sty

henhouse

3. What was George's father doing?

haymaking

cutting turf

milking cows

4. How many bottles were on the medicine shelf?

four

five

six

5. What animals was the orange coloured powder for?

chickens

sheep

rabbits

George's Marvellous Medicine

by Roald Dahl

Colour the box with the correct answer under each question.

6. How many purple pills did George put into the medicine?

300

500

800

7. What was the red liquid meant to be used for?

goatdip

cowdip

sheepdip

8. What animals were the pale green pills meant for?

pigs

horses

dogs

9. What did George use to stir the mixture?

spoon

ladle

stick

10. What word did George use to describe his mixture?

concoction

invention

potion

George's Marvellous Medicine

by Roald Dahl

Colour the box with the correct answer under each question.

1. Where did George's father keep the animal medicines?

garage

shed

bathroom

2. What building was beside the shed?

stable

pig sty

henhouse

3. What was George's father doing?

haymaking

cutting turf

milking cows

4. How many bottles were on the medicine shelf?

four

five

six

5. What animals was the orange coloured powder for?

chickens

sheep

rabbits

George's Marvellous Medicine

by Roald Dahl

Colour the box with the correct answer under each question.

6. How many purple pills did George put into the medicine?

300

500

800

7. What was the red liquid meant to be used for?

goatdip

cowdip

sheepdip

8. What animals were the pale green pills meant for?

pigs

horses

dogs

9. What did George use to stir the mixture?

spoon

ladle

stick

10. What word did George use to describe his mixture?

concoction

invention

potion

Resources used in this file from:

<https://www.teacherspayteachers.com/Store/Hello-Literacy>

<https://www.teacherspayteachers.com/Store/Monster-Wrangler-Mike>